THE SCIENCE OF GATORADE

Over 60 years of research prove that Gatorade has the right blend for fueling and hydrating – the perfect balance of flavor, electrolytes, and carbohydrates.

Why Gatorade?

When the body can't shed enough heat to balance the warmth generated by physical labor and external sources, it heightens the risk of heat-related illnesses. This is when Gatorade steps in.

Plain water will not replace the electrolytes lost through sweat, nor will it supply the energy that working muscles need. Gatorade provides both.

What Factors Lead to Workers Becoming Overheated?

Several components contribute to workers experiencing overheating on the job. These include the environmental conditions they work in, the equipment and heavy protective clothing required for their tasks, and the internal heat generated by physical labor.

For every hardworking individual, Gatorade stands unrivaled as the most tested hydration beverage.
